My journey in education began with a degree in Hospitality, Sociocultural Services, and Tourism from Pacific National University, where I developed a passion for cultural exchange and communication. Over the years, I have had the privilege of working in various roles, each contributing to my growth.

At Marie International School, I had the opportunity to play a pivotal role in establishing efficient school operations, building a customer trust and company culture, amidst the challenges of the new business, growing school and resource shortages. Starting as an Administrator, I managed a myriad of administrative tasks while doubling student enrollment in the first year. Despite the challenges, I remained resilient and fostered a positive work culture among staff members, contributing to the school's reputation as a desirable educational institution through word-of-mouth referrals.

Transitioning to the role of Assistant Teacher and later as Head Teacher for Marie International Nursery school, I demonstrated my ability to create a nurturing, safe and inclusive classroom environment conducive to learning and exploration. Although not included in my CV to maintain its focus on my primary professional experiences, this period showcases my adaptability and aesthetic sense, illustrates my ability to create beauty and harmony, skills important for advertisement and branding.

My early career as a travel company manager then guide, alongside my transition to flower design, highlight my strong communication and sales abilities. Although not explicitly mentioned in my CV, these experiences emphasize my capacity to engage customers effectively and drive product promotion, essential skills for this position.

My personal qualities, including my ability to work under stress, my proactive approach to problem-solving, creativity and my dedication to creating a positive environment, have been instrumental in my success in various roles. I am committed to continuous learning and growth, and I am excited about the opportunity to bring my unique blend of skills and experiences to Kinder Kids.
